Book Description

These inspired aphorisms are remedies for hearts that seek the truth. They provide keys to the doors of inner knowledge, as well as antidotes to distraction and confusion.

About Shaykh Fadhlalla Haeri

Acknowledged as a master of self-knowledge and a spiritual philosopher, Shaykh Fadhlalla Haeri's role as a teacher grew naturally out of his own quest for self-fulfillment.

He travelled extensively on a spiritual quest which led to his eventual rediscovery of the pure and original Islamic heritage of his birth, and the discovery of the truth that reconciles the past with the present, the East with the West, the worldly with the spiritual – a link between the ancient wisdom teachings and our present time.

A descendant of five generations of well-known and revered spiritual leaders, Shaykh Fadhlalla Haeri has taught students throughout the world for over 30 years. A prolific author of more than thirty books relating to the universal principles of Islam, the Qur'an, and its core purpose of enlightenment, he is a gifted exponent of how the self relates to the soul, humankind's link with the Divine, and how consciousness can be groomed to reflect our higher nature.

The unifying scope of his perspective emphasizes practical, actionable knowledge that leads to self-transformation, and provides a natural bridge between seemingly different Eastern and Western approaches to spirituality, as well as offering a common ground of higher knowledge for various religions, sects and secular outlooks.

Bursts of Silence

All human beings hope for a better future but this desire becomes a fantasy unless we change the present. The present is the daughter of the past, and the mother of the future.

The real choice we have is between being a dull baggage of past memories or a vibrant package of Life.

Involvement with the world outside is unavoidable. What is avoidable is the emotional entanglement and unproductive stress.

Wage earners are the slaves of our modern culture.

After exhausting desires and ambitions one may reach the shores of sublime submission.

There cannot be any constancy in experience.

The root of discord, agitation and chaos is based on a desire for harmony and order, which has been distorted by fear of not attaining that desire.

We train our children in competition, acquisitiveness and even aggression. Then we expect cooperation, respect and consideration.

You cannot succeed by effort alone – yet you cannot live without effort.

Service, selflessness and charity are the first steps towards the realization that we are all recipients of a much greater and overwhelming mercy and grace from the Sustainer of All.

When we act out of balance and not according to natural laws we experience dis-ease. Only by erasing the 'dis' can we return to the desirable 'ease'. Yet our medical doctors add drugs rather than eliminate the cause – and thus produce new diseases.

To maintain ease we must ward off disease. This will require knowledge of the boundaries, what is forbidden and what is permissible: the Shari`ah.

Natural disasters and calamities are brutal adjustments and healing to earthly wounds.

If you don't give up the lower self for the higher, the body or mind will give in.

Organized religion and other forms of cultural, social and national organizations bring about temporary relief and a transient certainty, whereas knowledge of Allah and His decrees give us access to a zone of constant security.

Whilst searching for security and fulfillment we forget the Source of these is Allah, Who can only be realized by devotion, abandonment and surrender unto Him.

The constant desire for stimulation is based on the deep rooted fitra for the nafs to be illuminated: self-concern and love need to be sublimated to awakening to the free spirit, the ruh.

The greater our sensual awareness, the deeper our existential life, and thus the weaker our spiritual state.

What matters most is a happy deathday rather than a happy birthday, for we have no choice in the condition of our birthday. A happy death is for those who are prepared for the day when the gate of death opens to the next life.

How absurd is most human endeavor: we come into this life with uncertainty and leave it with uncertainty, yet all the while we slave away for relative certainty and security.

The antidote to aggression, competition and ambition is transformation through submission.

We are constantly looking for ways to pierce the bubble of time and space and get back to the zone of the Constant Garden.

We always seek knowledge of closeness to the Core or Essence of creation, the Origin of peace, light and the infinite. That is why we are repelled by disruption, agitation and discord.

In our life what is truly needed for growth and provision is already given by Allah, the Glorious. But out of fear and anxiety we want to take what is not needed, or that which is not ours.

A mistake is something wrongly taken, mis-taking that which is not for us.

Islam began as alien to the culture of the day and will also return as a stranger to present-day Muslims.

The apparent certainty of the religious-minded person blocks the energy and thrust for search and enlightenment. The sincere seeker who starts with doubt and uncertainty is more likely to discover the Truth, whereas the 'cozy' believer will protect himself within the dogma of dead concepts and superstitions.

We need to exercise reason and intellect in order to realize the limitation and ultimate futility of human reasoning and rational thought.

Before calling upon the heart, the head has to be used.

We pursue our ambitions and projects in the hope of happiness and fulfillment. We forget Allah's purpose – to live His Will, not ours.
